The Peter Cruddas Foundation

<http://www.petercruddasfoundation.org.uk>

Charity Registration Number: 1117323

The Foundation gives priority to programmes designed to help disadvantaged young people to pursue their education (including vocational) and more generally develop their potential whether through sport or recreation, voluntary programmes or otherwise.

Preference will be given to the support of projects undertaken by charitable organisations for the benefit of such people

There are five funding streams:

1. Pathways/support for young disadvantaged or disaffected people into education, training or employment
2. Crime diversion schemes
3. Work experience/skills projects for young people
4. Mentoring of young people in London
5. General youth work in London

The most substantial grants to youth organisations have been given to The Prince's Trust and the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme. There are very occasional grants to smaller and local youth groups.

The Peter De Haan Charitable Trust

<http://www.pdhct.org.uk>

Charity Registration Number: 1077005

Social Welfare is one of three funding streams, alongside the Arts and the Environment.

The current focus of this programme is children and young people; specifically projects which are aimed at early intervention and addressing community and family issues.

Projects with continuity, which seek to help beneficiaries back into mainstream society, will be given priority. The Trustees have now narrowed the focus towards early intervention with fewer grants than before. The social welfare programme is fully committed until 2013-14.

The trust is intending to spend all of its capital over a 20 year period. Therefore funding levels will remain consistently high into the future.

Alongside a wide range of social welfare projects, youth organisations have been funded – throughout the UK. For example:

- Felixstowe Youth Development Agency: £10,000 (2009)
- Smethwick Bangladeshi Youth Forum: £10,000 (2009)
- Carefree Kids: £10,000 (2008)

The Football Foundation

<http://www.footballfoundation.org.uk>

Charity Registration Number: 1079309

The Football Foundation is the UK's largest sports' charity. Funded by the Premier League, The Football Association and the Government, the Foundation directs £40m every year into grass roots sport.

The Foundation receives money from the very top of the professional game and also from the Department for Culture, Media and Sport through Sport England. It then uses this money to leverage even more partnership funding, to deliver a programme of new and improved community sports facilities in towns and cities across the country.

The Foundation also funds projects that increase participation in football and other sports and address some of society's key challenges, such as social inclusion, health, education and equalities.

There are two grant schemes which are relevant for youth groups:

The facilities scheme provides money to develop new or improve facilities for community benefit. These include changing rooms or clubhouses, grass or artificial pitches and multi-use games areas.

The Foundations aims to support projects that:

- Improve facilities for football and other sport in local communities.
- Sustain or increase participation amongst children and adults, regardless of background age, or ability.
- Help children and adults to develop their physical, mental, social and moral capacities through regular participation in sport.

The types of facilities that they give money for include:

- grass pitches drainage/improvements
- pavilions, clubhouses and changing rooms
- artificial turf pitches and multi-use games areas
- fixed floodlights for artificial pitches.

Grow the Game provides funding for projects that use football to:

- increase participation by both players and volunteers.

- This is done by supporting the costs associated with providing new activity.

At the time of undertaking this research, Grow the Game was closed for applications.

Youth Groups have had some substantial grants from the Football Foundation:

- Egerton Youth Club: £733,615 (2009)
- Federation of London Youth Clubs: £250,000 (2009)
- Salmon Youth Centre: £281,355 (2008 and 2009)
- Elite Youth: £99,866 (2009)
- Filey Boys and Girls Sports Club: £545,342 (2008)
- Wallsend Boys Club: £850,000 (2008)

Paul Hamlyn Foundation

www.phf.org.uk

Charity Registration Number: 1102927

The Paul Hamlyn Foundation is one of the larger independent grant-making foundations in the UK. It gives preference to those causes that may not gain funding easily from other funding bodies.

The Paul Hamlyn Foundation supports causes within the arts, India, education and learning. It has a strong focus on enabling children and young people to have a better quality of life. The majority of this is through arts based projects. However there is scope for youth project funding, as the Foundation has supported the following:

- Southside Young Leaders Academy: £150,000 (2010)
- Southfield Community Action Forum: £36,730 (2010)
- Hideaway Youth Project: £58,893 (2007-2008)

31 March 2006	£16,906,000	£12,823,000

The Foundation has several types of funding these include

- Special Initiatives

These are targeted, strategic interventions that the Foundation runs in order to meet a specific area of need. These are available for the following types of funding: Arts, Education and Learning and Social Justice. Special Initiatives usually last for several years and generally include preliminary scoping research. (Full details and application process is available on line)

- Open Grants scheme,

Organisations can apply for this type of funding at any time, applications are made up of a two part process. Applicants are required to submit brief first-stage applications. If approved, the application will then developed with grant-making teams before being put forward for a decision by trustees. Grants are made at quarterly committee meetings or full trustee board meetings, depending on the level of funding required

- Grants Plus

These are grants that are given out to charities that have had difficulty securing funding from other sources; these are for 'inspirational causes' that support the Foundation's mission.
